SMOLDERING HOPEWELL TO BE SOON REBUILT

HOPEWELL, Va., Dec. 10.—This mushroom city, made great in a few months by the manufacture of war munitions, and which was last night almost totally destroyed by fire, is still a boom town. Today contractors and builders are planning new structures on the smoldering ruins. Many of the new buildings will be of concrete and fireproof construction.

The capacity of the surrounding territory is taxed to take care of the thousands who are made homeless by the fire. The militia is still on guard and order prevails.

BRITAIN DENIES CHARGE.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—The British embassy has laid before Secretary Lansing evidence to refute the charge that a British cruiser chased the Danish steamer Vinland inside the three-mile limit of American waters. The commander of the cruiser, whose name is withheld, declared that he did not approach nearer than four and one-half miles of the American shore.

NAVAL BATTLE IN ADRIATIC REPORTED.

ATHENS, Dec. 10.—The Austrian and Italian naval squadrons are reported to have engaged in battle in the Adriatic Thursday. No information has been received as to the outcome of the battle, which is reported to have occurred near Medua, northern Albania.

PARIS REPORTS NO DEVELOPMENTS.

PARIS, Dec. 10.—Not a single important development occurred last night, says the official French statement.

PEACE RIOTS IN GERMANY.

LONDON, Dec. 10.—Switzerland dispatches report peace riots in Berlin and demonstrations against war in Dresden and Leipzig. The Germans think that only revolution can force the government to end war.

SANTA CLAUS TO TALK TO CHILDREN

THE DEAR OLD MAN WILL BE AT THE DAILY NEWS OFFICE FOR ONE HOUR MONDAY EVENING.
WILL ANSWER PHONE.

Already the little ones of Daytona, Seabreeze and Daytona Beach are dreaming of Santa Claus and what they want him to bring and place in their stockings Christmas eve. Santa Claus is more than usually busy this year and he would like to know just what every little boy and girl wants him to bring for Christmas. If he only knew just what they want he will do his best to bring it to them.

The Daily News has arranged for

DRAINAGE SYSTEM WORK

NOW WEST OF RIDGEWOOD

The replacing of the 24-inch tile in the flowing sand sections of the drainage system on Live Oak avenue and Cypress street by heavier tile of the same dimensions has been completed and the work of laying tile is now in progress west of Ridgewood on those streets. On Cypress street it was found necessary to replace a few more pieces of the first tile used where it had cracked under the strain imposed upon it. J. E. Bryan, of the contracting company, who had been in the city in connection with the work, returned to Jacksonville on Wednesday.

Santa Claus to talk to the little ones and he will be at the Daily News office next Monday evening from 7:00 to 8:00 o'clock, during which time he wants every little boy and girl in the three towns to talk to him. If some little boys and girls have no telephone they can write a letter to Santa Claus, addressing it "Santa Claus," care Daily News and mail it next Monday so that old Santa can get it when he comes Monday night.

Don't forget the time that Santa Claus will be at the Daily News office—next Monday evening from 7:00 to 8:00 o'clock. Call 18-red, and say, "I want to talk to Santa Claus." Santa Claus will, of course, ask your name and where you live, and also the name of your papa and mama, so that he will know just where to go on Christmas eve. Daytona is getting to be a pretty good-sized town and Santa Claus will have hard work finding the different places unless you give your street number or tell him about where you live. He will want to know your age, too.

PROFICIENCY SHOWN IN SCHOOL FIRE DRILL

BUILDING EMPTIED AND DOORS CLOSED IN ONE MINUTE AND FIVE SECONDS AFTER ALARM SOUNDED.

Much proficiency was shown by teachers and pupils in the fire drill held at the Daytona public schools this morning. The alarm for the drill was sounded at 8:45 o'clock, and in just one minute and five seconds the building was emptied and the doors and windows all closed.

The exit of the pupils was exceedingly orderly and without any show of excitement. All the teachers and pupils were back in the building and at their accustomed work in three minutes from the time the alarm was sounded.

Mrs. J. M. Redding, who had been visiting her mother, Mrs. B. P. Smith, and other members of the family for two weeks past at the Morgan hotel, returned to her home in Jacksonville this morning.

SHOLTZ TO LIGHT BAND STANDARDS

Michael Sholtz, president of the Daytona Electric Light & Power company, with his usual generosity, has volunteered to furnish current gratis to light the standards in front of the band house. The Daytona Public Service company had already agreed to furnish the light without charge for the interior of the structure.

The following letter has been received from Mr. Sholtz by Commodore Burgoyne:

"We have been informed that you are to place five large standards such as are now on Esplanade Burgoyne, before your new band pavilion and if such be the case, we will be pleased to furnish the current for the same gratis to you, as a token of our appreciation of what you are doing for our city."

"With kind personal regards of the writer,

"Yours very truly,

"MICHAEL SHOLTZ,

"President."

ALLIES WILL FIGHT TEUTONS TO FINISH

LONDON, Dec. 10.—In all the capitals of the Allies Chancellor Bethmann-Hollweg's peace talk in the reichstag yesterday was met with stern rebuff. The Allies are determined to fight until Germany is conquered, if it takes several years. Rome, Petrograd, Paris and London are a unit in believing that Germany has already passed the climax of her military achievement and the peace talk by the chancellor is regarded as an effort to bring up the question of terms while Germany is at the zenith of its power.

ENGLAND MUST WATCH HER STEP.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—"The United States must notify Great Britain that it will omit no word or act to enforce its rights upon the high seas," was the burden of a sensational speech in the senate today by Hoke Smith. Senator Smith spoke in support of his resolution to have the Foreign Relations committee investigate and report the best way to end illegal treatment of American ships and cargoes. Senator Smith declared that protests of the state department had been unavailing and it is up to Congress to seek a remedy. It intimated that an embargo on foodstuffs would be an effective weapon. He charged Great Britain with bold, reckless defiance of all law and said a halt must be called.

PRESIDENT WILSON IN COLUMBUS.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Dec. 10.—President Wilson arrived this morning to address the chamber of commerce. His trip was without incident. The president was accorded an enthusiastic reception.

SAYS U. S. MUST PREPARE TO DOMINATE.

MONTREAL, Dec. 10.—"If Germany triumphs, Canada will come under German rule," declared former Premier Laurier to a mass meeting of liberals here today. "This will leave only two world powers—Germany and the United States. America will be forced to become a military nation for Germany would continue her preparations to dominate the world," continued the former premier.

CHANCELLOR'S SPEECH APPROVED.

BERLIN, Dec. 10.—At a mass meeting of the social democratic party today resolutions were adopted approving Chancellor Bethmann-Hollweg's speech on the attitude of Germany toward peace. The resolutions state that the speech shows no desire on the part of Germany to annex territory.

TURKS CLAIM VICTORIES.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Dec. 10.—The official Turkish statement says: "Our fire scattered the enemy near Anafarta. Our artillery drove an enemy transport into the shoals of Kamiklilim bay. Near Ariburna our artillery destroyed a munitions depot of the enemy artillery. On the Irak front the enemy's resistance is getting weak. We repulsed with great loss to the English sorties."

PUBLIC INVITED TO

HEAR DR. CONRADI

Dr. Edward Conradi, president of the Florida State College for Women, arrived today from Tallahassee and will address the East Coast Teachers' association tomorrow morning at 10:00 o'clock in the auditorium of the public school building. The public is invited to be present.

Miss K. I. Bacon, of Ogdensburg, N. Y., who has been spending the winter in Daytona for several years past, arrived Thursday evening and is again at the Gables hotel for the season as usual.

"SONG OF HATE" AT CRYSTAL TONIGHT

"The Song of Hate," produced by J. Gordon Edwards, will be the feature at the Crystal theatre this afternoon and evening.

Floria La Tosca (Betty Nansen) is a celebrated opera singer. Two men are rivals for her love. The favored one, Mario de Campo, a young artist, incurs by his success the savage hatred of Baron Scarpia, prefect of police.

Inspired by his hatred, Scarpia causes the arrest of Mario on a trumped-up charge, and as the price for his freedom, demands that La Tosca give herself to him.

The Singer's love is all powerful and she consents to the debasing proposal. Scarpia comes to claim his promise. Tosca is desperate. At the last moment, revolting from the horrible bargain she has made, she seizes a knife and stabs her false suitor to the heart.

Tosca's realization of what she has done and the consequences which ensue lead "The Song of Hate" to a terrific climax, in which Miss Nansen's superb art and wonderful command of dramatic emotion rise to heights never before attained.

The idea of the Panama canal is almost as old as the knowledge of the isthmus. Balboa is said to have suggested the big ditch after discovering the Pacific from the big hill about midway on the canal route. The Suez canal is said to have been dug originally by the Phoenicians, but after their commercial age passed it was filled up by the drifting sands. It was, of course, only a tiny waterway adapted to the oared galleons of that time.

Richter Great Lover of Pets.

Jean Paul Richter surrounded himself with pets as though they were the necessities of life. A favorite poodle accompanied him in all his journeyings, and must not be excluded from any house where he entered. "Love me, love my dog." His birds hopped over the page on which he was writing, he waiting the while, with suspended pen and continuing patience, until they should pass. A tame squirrel sat upon his shoulder in his walks about town; and once, at the christening of a friend's child, having forgotten to leave the creature behind, he was obliged to put it in his pocket, and with difficulty prevented its escape with his left, while his right hand and arm held the babe.

CANADIANS APPEAL FOR AMERICAN AID

BRIDGEBURG, ONTARIO, Dec. 10.—A strong recruiting appeal has just been issued by the committee in charge of the Ninety-seventh battalion, the American division, now being raised in Ontario, to be sent overseas as soon as equipped. The regiment will be under the command of the New York National guard.

"Such infractions of the laws of God and man as those committed by Germany in devastating Belgium by murder and grigandage; in drowning innocent women and children, by the sinking of the Lusitania, and in the revolting and horrible killing of Edith Cavell, have fully convinced the Link of the American people that Germany's ambitions must be frustrated if freedom is to exist," reads the appeal.

Many Americans are today in the trenches. Many are in the French foreign legion. Others are serving in the British ranks, and now that there is an opportunity with others to stand shoulder to shoulder, they are certain to avail themselves of the chance to fight in the struggle, gigantic though it be, for the ending of the Germanic dream of world domination.

"Let all willing Americans join the Ninety-seventh. In the ranks of that regiment they will find a thousand congenial spirits, many of whom have seen service in the Philippines, in Cuba, in Porto Rico, while others have rustled in Central and South America."

Practice Doing Right.
Doing is the greatest thing. For if resolutely people do what is right, in time they will come to like doing it.—Ruskin.

Daily Thought.
When it comes to the point really bad men are just as rare as really good men.—Bernard Shaw.

Made Wrong Calculation.
The astronomer Simon Newcomb, once calculated that the maximum velocity attained by a body starting with velocity zero at an infinite distance and passing through a stellar system containing 100,000,000 stars each five times as massive as our sun and distributed throughout a disk-like spheroid of certain extent cannot exceed 40 kilometers per second. Yet the star "Groombridge 1880" has a speed nearly nine times this value, and the massive star Arcturus has a speed probably four times this value.

APPRECIATION IS DUE COMMODORE BURGOWNE

Editor Daily News: Do the people of Daytona fully appreciate the generosity of Commodore Burgoyne? Surely it is a work of interest in Daytona and for the pleasure of its people that Commodore Burgoyne is spending this large amount of money. There are people who can never see the good in anything that may argue for selfish interests in many instances, but how absurd in this case. Few towns have such a citizen and none have a better. Will this generosity make laggards out of the rest of us? This is a question we hear freely expressed. It ought to put pride and ambition in every citizen's heart. Such gifts however frequently spoil a community. Daytona is unique in a great many respects and it undoubtedly will be in this. After this beautiful building on the front is completed Daytona should inaugurate Burgoyne Day and on that day show Commodore Burgoyne how much we think of him and his work. On that day every citizen should make a pledge to himself that he will help and assist the progress of Daytona along the lines of beauty and attractiveness in every conceivable way. Nature has made it possible to make Daytona an allurement, captivating in the extreme, not only to the stranger, but satisfying to those of us who live here.

Commodore Burgoyne could spend his money in many selfish ways but his big heart and unselfish nature has willed that Daytona shall profit by it and we as citizens must let no opportunity pass to show our very great appreciation of this.

F. J. WALTER.

Very Fluent.
Many folks are excellent conversationalists on the subject of themselves.—Kansas City Journal.

Danger in too Much Method.
The methodical man is apt to become fussy if he lives long enough.

Education.
A great people, being actuated by ideals of one kind and another, taxed themselves to the verge of exhaustion in order to make whistles out of pigs' tails. A few pigs' tails actually became whistles of a sort. Quite a number remained, after all, pigs' tails. But the great majority ended with being neither one thing nor the other. The great people clung to their ideals, however. "There's nothing like education, and lots of it!" they insisted.—New York Evening Post.

EVERY one is familiar with the viands that go to make up the Christmas dinner of the English speaking races—the turkey, goose, plum pudding and mince pie festivals—but how many of us know what they eat at Christmastide in foreign countries?

The Frenchman's Christmas bill of fare, for instance, is extensive and varied and in many respects quite different from our own. The great Gallic national dishes are truffled turkey and black puddings, of which every Frenchman who can afford such luxuries makes a very hearty meal at Yuletide.

In Russia the Christmas meal consists largely of two dishes—one of wheat porridge served with honey and the other a curious compound of stewed pears, apples, oranges, grapes and cherries, sweetened with honey and served cold.

Italians, too, are fond of rather sweet and indigestible dishes, especially at Christmas. One of their favorite combinations is that of eels, periwinkles and vermicelli, while the inevitable macaroni and spaghetti form, of course, the principal articles of food at all times.

The German Christmas dinner offers as its principal attraction the goose, without which your true German would feel that he had not had a real holiday feast. Germans, like Austrians and Italians, have a very sweet taste, as evidenced by their numerous varieties of cake.

Notwithstanding the tendency in all countries to offer huge dinners at Christmas, it would seem that every nation's holiday bill of fare is becoming simpler with the course of time. An interesting comparison may be made of the Christmas dinners formerly served in England and in this country with those of today, albeit the latter are by no means scanty.

The forbears of modern Englishmen must have possessed magnificent appetites. Their hospitality was conducted on a scale that would make the housekeeper of today shudder. The meal with which they commenced their Christmas day, a mere appetizer to them, was ample enough to rob the modern gourmet of all zest for food for several days. The sideboard of the old English mansion groined under its leviathan round of beef, its corpulent pork pie, the Yorkshire ham, the brawn and chine, while on the table itself deviled turkeys' legs, homemade sausages, cutlets and kidneys sent up a mingled and grateful incense from an environment of piles of hot buttered toast, new laid eggs, honey and fruit.

But this repast, substantial as it was, was trifling as compared with the dinner—the real dinner—that followed not many hours after. The feast was heralded by the bear's head, preceded by servants who blew resounding flourishes on their trumpets. The bear's head itself was carried, sometimes on a dish of gold or silver, into the banquet hall at the head of a stately procession of guests.

Then came the peacock, which was served even more sumptuously than the bear's head, with its garnishing of rosemary and bays and its tusks ornamented with large apples. This is how they used to prepare the peacock for the feast: When it had been roasted and dressed with a stuffing of sweet herbs and spices and basted with the yolks of eggs it was sewed into its feathers, its beak was gilded, and it was borne to the dining hall by dames of high degree, accompanied by the strains of minstrelsy.

Other features of the old time Christmas dinner included geese, turkeys, capons, pheasants, sirloins of beef and haunches of venison. That these were washed down with gallons of ale and wine goes without saying. Indeed, another story might be written of the liquid element of the old English dinners.—Harper's Weekly.

FUNERAL SERVICES OF MRS. C. H. LANE

THE OBSEQUIES WERE HELD IN BINGHAM & MALEY COMPANY PARLORS AND INTERMENT IN PINWOOD CEMETERY.

Funeral services were held this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, over the remains of Mrs. Josephine Lane, wife of C. H. Lane, brief mention of whose death was made in yesterday's issue of the Daily News.

The services were held in the Bingham & Maley company parlors, Rev. Wm. J. Drew, pastor of the Congregational church, officiating, and the interment was made in Pinewood cemetery, Daytona Beach.

Mrs. Lane had a severe fall about two weeks ago while suffering from an attack of acute indigestion, receiving injuries which caused or hastened her death. She had been in a serious condition from the time of the fall, but a few days before her death appeared to be somewhat improved.

Mrs. Lane, who was about 70 years of age, was originally from Philadelphia, Pa., and was a member of the society of Friends, or Quakers. She came to Daytona for the first time with Mr. Lane, shortly after their marriage, about 15 years ago. They resided here for two or three years and then returned North. Later they returned to Florida and lived for several years in Clewiston and Winter Park, coming to Daytona again from the latter place four or five years ago.

Mrs. Lane was the last member of a family of ten children, and is survived by her husband, two daughters-in-law and three grandchildren. The daughters-in-law, wives of sons by a former marriage, are Mrs. H. S. Walton, of Philadelphia, and Mrs. Maud M. Walton, of Miami, the latter of whom is the mother of the three children.

The bereaved husband has the deep sympathy of many friends in Daytona and vicinity in his hour of sorrow and loss.

KINGSTON.

KINGSTON, Dec. 9.—There will be a musical program at the public school Friday afternoon, December 17, under the direction of Miss Peck, the supervisor of music.

Mrs. G. W. Rich had the misfortune last week to fall and as a result sustained a bad sprain, which is improving as rapidly as could be expected.

Mrs. J. D. Briller, who has been visiting her parents here for several weeks, left yesterday for St. Augustine, her home.

John Brown and family moved this week from Main street to Mrs. Jordan's cottage on Ridgewood.

Rev. Summers, who had charge of the Methodist church here for several months, left this week to attend the seminary. Mrs. Summers will visit relatives during his absence.

The Philanthropists of the Baptist church gave a surprise shower to Miss Louise Crawford Tuesday night.

Charles Scott is confined to his home suffering from asthma.

MANAGER MALBY RECOVERS PAPERS

A number of deeds and other private papers belonging to H. J. Malby, manager for the Bond Lumber company, which were taken from the safe in the company's office on Orange avenue when it was burglarized Wednesday night, were found Thursday behind the barn at the lumber yard and returned to Mr. Malby. The thief evidently had no use for the papers, but knew what to do with the $2.23 which he took from the safe. Mr. Malby makes a practice of banking every day and leaves no money of any amount in the safe which proved a big disappointment to the burglar.

Mausser Rifle

The Mauser rifle was invented by the Mauser brothers, who were born in Wurttemberg, Germany in 1867. The brothers left Germany and settled in Liege, Belgium. The Spanish troops in the Spanish-American war were armed with it and derived great advantage in effective rifle fire over the American volunteer regiments armed with the Springfield 45.

Showing parachute drop from Miss Law's aeroplane at Indianapolis during past summer.

MISS LAW MAY PILOT LEAPS FROM CLOUDS

Miss Ruth Law has with her this season an exhibition aeroplane that is capable of going at tremendous speed and to great heights. This machine is in addition to her regular passenger-carrying aeroplane which she had last year and has again brought to Seabreeze this year.

The new aeroplane is not a passenger-carrying craft, but is used for exhibition work solely. In it Miss Law expects to loop the loop and cut other daring capers.

She is not certain of remaining here during the season, but likes this locality and if she can succeed in selling enough tickets at $10 each to partially pay her expenses she will remain. She is planning on arranging a special exhibition of having a man leap from her aeroplane in a parachute at a distance of 2,000 feet from the earth. This exhibition was given by Miss Law and an assistant several times during the past summer and the only thing that stands in her way is the expense of bringing the "jumper" from New York.

For several weeks since the last period of hard rains the stretch of road between Duke street and Earl, on Palmetto avenue in Seabreeze has been practically impassible by vehicles of any kind. The Seabreeze street workmen are drawing river shell from F. F. Smith's landing at the foot of Earl street and are repairing the street on the full length of the block.

Mr. Cummings, of Quincy, Ind., is stopping at the Lone Bay Inn with his friend, W. E. Harris, of Fort Wayne, Ind. Mr. Cummings has been coming to Daytona Beach and Daytona for many years to spend the winter. There was no railroad in this part of the state when he first came here.

A jolly good time was experienced by about thirty friends and relatives of D. E. Lowe at a birthday party held in his honor at his home on the corner of Ora street and Peninsula drive in Seabreeze last night. The guests were treated to excellent refreshments after spending a greater part of the evening in playing various games. The party left for home about 10:30 o'clock.

The junior choir of the Seabreeze Avenue Methodist church is working hard on another special for Sunday evening's services. After last night's practice the choir, which numbers about 25 young people, adjourned to the beach, where they were entertained by one of the members, Jack B. Strother, to a marshmallow roast. A large fire was built a few rods south of the pier and the evening was spent in playing games.

FLAG IS RAISED AT THE PEABODY HOME

INTERESTING ADDRESS DELIVERED BY REV. JOHN TREADWELL ON THE STARS AND STRIPES.

A party was given by S. J. Peabody yesterday afternoon to a number of his friends. The entertainment was held on the beautiful lawn in the rear of the attractive Peabody residence on Halifax avenue in Daytona Beach. The following people were present at the delightful affair: Rev. and Mrs. John Treadwell, Mr. and Mrs. Treglow, Mr. and Mrs. Young, Smith Young, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Holmes, Miss Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Ayres, Mrs. Sheets, Mrs. Hill, Mrs. Coburn, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn, Miss Towne, Mrs. Barnes, C. H. Stansbury.

At the beginning of the afternoon's entertainment, the ceremony of raising a beautiful flag was held. Mr. Peabody made a few well-chosen remarks and said that the flag was presented to him by his friend, Judge A. A. Adams, of New York City, who was born in his own home country and has been his lifelong friend. Mr. Adams was the youngest man ever sent to the Indiana legislature, and has also been a member of the state supreme court of Indiana. At present Mr. Adams is the chief counsel for Arbuckle Bros., well-known sugar refiners. The weather vane which ornaments the top of the new pole was presented by W. H. Knight, of Chicago, an old friend who visited the Peabody home last winter and could not find the points of the compass, which was given as the reason for presenting the vane.

Rev. John Treadwell of the Daytona Beach Methodist church, made a short speech on the merits of Old Glory.

Mr. Treadwell said: "The thoughtless person sees nothing in our flag but the weaving of a fabric, a blending of color, a picture to please the eye; the thoughtful man sees all of this and more—he sees the blood and bone and sinew and muscle of American manhood; he sees the brain and brawn behind the flag; he sees the principles for which our nation stands; he sees the truth and liberty which it proclaims.

"Every nation has a flag of which it may be justly proud in proportion as their flag is symbolic of truth and justice.

"Our flag, as it streams across the paths of the ocean or as it floats in the breeze in lands afar, men have the daybreak of liberty burst on their eyes; no other flag has gone forth on the same beneficent errands as our flag.

"Those stars standing so prominently on the field of blue are to men of the earth like God's star on the darkest night; men have come to know that where they have shed their benign influence there can be no night of bondage, no day of oppression.

"While many chapters in the history of our flag may not reflect honor and glory because of corrupt influences and associations, yet it stands today before the world as a symbol of truth and justice and mercy.

"Let us here this afternoon as we stand under God's great canopy, renew our allegiance to those stars and stripes; let us remember that it is not enough to honor our flag with our lips; we should remember that our life and our conduct and our character either honors or dishonors. We can only honor our flag as we honor the heaven-born principles for which it stands.

"In the sunset hours of the life of our friend (Mr. Peabody) who today seeks to honor his flag and mine, let us hope that that eternal flag whose Maker walked in Galilee may ever float over him and as those colors we now behold are fadeless so may the rainbow of His promise fade never for him."

After this ceremony the party spent the remainder of the afternoon in playing clock golf.

A. Vande Vord is building a small cement block shed on the Princess Isena grounds in Seabreeze for storage purposes.

The tank and tower on the corner of Halifax avenue and Duke street, formerly used by the Co-operative water works system in supplying their customers with water, was taken down yesterday and moved to the other lot of the water works company on Grandview avenue.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE OFFICERS HOLD MEETING

The officers of the peninsula chamber of commerce held a meeting last night in one of the basement rooms of the Seabreeze Avenue Methodist church. L. W. Lott, R. C. Waterson, and U. S. Shelly, of Seabreeze, and S. G. Young and M. P. Guy, of Daytona Beach, were present.

During the greater part of the meeting the plans for the work of the chamber for the coming year were laid out and discussed. The body plans to do more than ever in the present winter to boost the peninsula.

SANS SOUCI CLUB TALKS OF CHANGING ITS NAME

The popular women's club of the peninsula held its regular semi-monthly meeting yesterday afternoon at the home of Miss Lucy Blakeslee on Peninsula drive in Daytona Beach.

During the business meeting the ladies had a warm discussion about changing the name of the organization. The present name, "Sans Souci," comes from the French and means "free from care." The ladies all agree that the name was entirely suitable for the club when it was first started, but some of them believe that it does not accord with the present aims of the club. No definite step was taken in the matter.

After the business hour two pleasing papers were read. Mrs. Will C. Greene gave a fifteen-minutes talk on old-fashioned and modern dancing, skillfully comparing the trots and glides of the present day with the good old-time square dances about which her grandfather used to tell. Mrs. W. H. Freeman read a carefully prepared description and historical outline of the "Moving Picture Business; Its Evolution and Censorship," which brought forth some lively discussion concerning the pictures shown at the local theatres.

Tea and wafers were served for refreshment and the next meeting will be held in the parlors of the Kentucky-Neptune hotel. Mrs. Watkins will be hostess and there will be a little Christmas tree on which gifts for the different members will be hung.

SMITH'S TRIALS TO BE HELD IN PRESENT MONTH

The county criminal court will convene next Tuesday and among the cases to be tried are the three cases of the state against C. G. Smith, of Daytona Beach.

The preliminary hearings held before Justice of the Peace J. W. Williams, of Seabreeze, a few weeks ago attracted much attention on the peninsula. The trials are for assault and battery, trespassing on the city water mains and grand larceny (taking water unlawfully from the city mains).

The "SILENT SMITH"

—Model 8 shows what should now be expected of a typewriter.

Ball Bearings; Long Wearing

The success of the L. C. Smith & Bros. Typewriters has been due to the fact that the wants of the user have dictated its construction. The user has decided in favor of certain improvements now incorporated in Model 8. Among them are:

Silence of Operation—The most silent running efficient typewriter ever placed on the market. Absolute silence has been very nearly attained.

Decimal Tabulator—A help in billing and tabulating. There is no extra charge for this convenience.

Variable Line Space—Enables the operator to start on a given line and space from point of starting; also to write on ruled lines whose spacing varies from typewriter spacing. A great help in card work.

Faster Ribbon Feed—Insures new place of impact for each typeface.

Choice of Carriage Return—Upon special order the new left hand carriage return will be furnished in place of the right hand return.

All the important features of previous models have been retained—ball bearing carriage, typebars and capital shift, back spacer, key-controlled ribbon, removable platen, protected type, flexible paper feed and automatic ribbon reverse.

Write for New Catalog of Model 8. It will explain why the L. C. Smith & Bros. Typewriter is a synonym for superior service.

MARKS GIVES BOYS' PLAIN SMOKE TALK

TELLS BASKET BALL PLAYERS THAT CIGARETTES AND ATHLETICS DO NOT GO HAND IN HAND.

H. Clay Marks, the supervising principal of the Daytona public schools, made it plain in a talk to the basket ball players last night that he is a bitter enemy of cigarette smoking among students. While principal of the DeLand schools, Professor Marks had five boys brought before County Solicitor Hamlin and enough sworn testimony was produced to convict some of the leading merchants of that city of furnishing cigarettes and cigarette materials to minors, had the matter been pushed.

Last night Professor Marks delivered a talk touching in general upon the evils of cigarette smoking and he stated to the basket ball players that cigarette smoking and athletics could not join hands. He told them that in the future he would not tolerate cigarette smoking either on or off the school premises and allow them to be retained on any athletic team connected with the Daytona public schools.

He quoted to them the substance of the state law on the subject and admonished them of the danger from pipes, cigarettes and matches, and cited the severe but nevertheless practical lesson shown by the fire under the auditorium Wednesday evening.

Professor Marks stated that if an authentic report reaches him of smoking under the auditorium, the use of the basement for dressing purposes will be absolutely prohibited. The principal also reminded the boys that smoking on school premises had been spoken of from the chapel platform more than a month ago.

According to the testimony of the members of the basket ball squad, only two boys make a practice of smoking, and only one, of these two, smokes cigarettes. He stated that the boys who smoked in the basement and probably started the blaze Wednesday night, will not be suspended unless the offense is repeated. The boys promised not to smoke again on the school premises and even went so far as to say that they are going to use all their power to stop the smoking habit entirely.

The boys were advised that the incident of Wednesday night did the basket ball team more harm than a whole string of defeats.

Important Point Overlooked.

One day a crowd of little children were invited to a party to be held from three till five. About five minutes of five Mary got up and going over to her little host, Johnnie, said: "Why Johnnie, it is pretty near five o'clock and you haven't given us anything to eat yet."

Earliest English Surname.

History shows that surnames did not come into general and hereditary use in England until after the Norman conquest, when the upper classes were first known by the names of their lands. The lower orders took the names of trades, birds, animals and various other objects in art and nature. We are told that the earliest English surname is "Hatte."

Diplomas for Everything.

An eastern lover of music wants a law passed which will require teachers of music to take examinations to prove their fitness to teach. Then, of course, there will be the same requirement for dancing teachers and bridge teachers and boxing teachers. The man without a diploma will feel very lonesome.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Poor Middle Child!

Middle children are to be pitied for being condemned to be constantly made over out of the luckiest eldest's outgrown raiment. How can Tommy be sure he is Tommy, when he is always walking around in Johnny's shoes? Or Polly, grown to girlhood, ever find her own heart, when all her life it has beaten under Anna's plaid?—Atlantic.

Only a Few More New Hoosier Beauties

Men Read This

If you don't do anything else tomorrow, have your wife bring you down to see these new Hoosier Kitchen Cabinets before they are all gone.

Hoosier Beauty is the National Step Saver—the finest and most complete kitchen cabinet ever built—now improved in a dozen ways.

The women who purchased Hoosier Beauties this week have in their homes a labor-saving machine of which they will be as proud in twenty years as they are today—at a price so low that any woman no matter what her income, can afford it.

Are YOU Like This Man?

Night after night he had gone home and found his wife tired, cross—worn out—yet, after supper while he read the paper, she was in the kitchen toiling over the dishes. He decided he wasn't fair. A dollar was pretty small to stack against his wife's health and the happiness of his home.

"Here's My Dollar"

he said. "Send out one of them Hoosier Cabinets everybody's buying this week." We did, and now he and his wife both are happy.

Now men! How about your wife? Is she getting a fair deal from you? And women, are you fair to your family when you make a drudge out of yourself instead of a good wife, mother and companion?

No woman has a right to drudge along with old-fashioned, out-of-date equipment when the remarkable convenience of a Hoosier Cabinet is now brought to her at a price within the reach of any income.

We have had a wonderful sale this week. These new Hoosiers have been the talk of the town. The sale may close tomorrow. It ends when this small lot is gone. While they last, a single dollar puts any Hoosier in your home, and the rest in only a dollar a week for a few weeks. If the Hoosier Beauty isn't exactly what you want, you can have

Don't fail to compare this with the popular

New "Roll Door Hoosier"

For this is the only kitchen cabinet with roll doors that are removable and sanitary. Note particularly the absence of cubby holes and partitions that catch dirt or dust.

The New "Hoosier DeLuxe"

The famous Hoosier Beauty white enameled inside and out—a kitchen cabinet of remarkable beauty.

Every one of these cabinets will be sold, while they last, this week at introductory prices, far below the standard prices of kitchen cabinets in their class.

This may be our last announcement. Come early tomorrow and pick your choice before it is too late.

CONSTRUCTION WORK ON MAYTOWN LINE BEGUN WEDNESDAY

CONTRACTOR COOK WITH CAR LOAD OF LABORERS AND TOOLS ARRIVES ON THE JOB TUESDAY.

The New Smyrna News today says: Construction work on the Maytown New Smyrna extension of the Florida East Coast railroad was begun in this vicinity Wednesday morning and Contractor John M. Cook announces that he will have six miles of the right of way cleared and the ditches dug by Christmas time. He will have the line completed and ready for service by the first of April.

Contractor Cook arrived here Tuesday evening with a car load of laborers and tools and immediately began preparations for the work of clearing the right of way to start the following morning.

The new line will be 18 miles in length from New Smyrna to Maytown and the completion of the cutoff will mean a big saving to the railroad in eliminating the haul from this city to Titusville and back up on the Enterprise branch to Maytown for transfer to the Okeechobee extension.

From the station in this city the new line will follow the Orange City branch line to the edge of the hammock at the city limits, where it will branch off in a southerly direction, and continue on almost a straight line to Maytown.

Worth While Quotation.

ATTENDING FUNERAL OF F. A. LOSLEY IN TITUSVILLE

Quite a number of Masons of this city went down to Titusville this morning to attend the funeral at that place at 2:00 o'clock this afternoon of Frederick A. Losley, whose death occurred yesterday. Mayor H. T. Titus also made the trip in his car, several members of the Masonic order accompanying him. Mayor Titus and Mr. Losley were personal friends and at one time associated in business. The deceased, who was a prominent citizen of Titusville, was also well-known in Daytona and was a member of Oriental Commandery, No. 9, Knights Templar, of this city.

Gas at First Not Appreciated.

Like most other useful inventions, gas was at first treated with ridicule, and the early companies for its manufacture were for many years anything but successful in their operations, and indeed, were carried on at a loss. As our readers know, they are now among the most profitable of undertakings. Even when displaced as an illuminant, gas will always have a great value for heating purposes.

Knowledge Gained by Experience.

During the last school year a teacher in the Indianapolis schools asked her pupils to tell her which was the most important, to keep the face or the teeth clean, and why. One of her small boys replied without a moment's hesitation: "Your teeth, 'cause they'll rot off, and your face won't."

Many Ways of Measuring Stone.

Because of the variety of uses to which it is put in its different forms, there is no uniform system of measuring stone. Square feet, yards and rods, perches, cords and tons are all included in the list.

Thrust at Scotch Frugality.

"No wonder the Scotch get rich," said a man, laying down a magazine about the multimillionaires of Scottish blood. "No wonder." He puffed his Havana thoughtfully. "An Irishman and a Scotchman went into a bar one day," he said. "But the Irishman had no money." He blew a fragrant cloud towards the ceiling. "So they came out," he said, "without a drink."—London Opinion.

Mistake Somewhere.

"Yaas," said Uncle Silas, "my son Bill hez got back from a special course he's been a-takin' at college, with a piece o' paper signed by th' 'thorities sayin' as how he's an A. M. I dunno what an A. M. is, but I'm afeared they's some mistake about it, for judgin' from the time he gits down to breakfast he behaves more like a P. M. ter me."

Man's Debt to the Candle.

After the lamp came the candle, whose modest ray we are inclined to regard with a considerable amount of kindness and esteem. But for the candle the dark ages of the world would have been dark in a still more literal sense than they already were, and to this humble servant civilized mankind was indebted for the very best illuminant it possessed, certainly until the latter end of the eighteenth century, and probably right up to the time of the invention of gas.

Look for the Best.

If your eyes look for nothing but evil you will always see evil triumphant; but if you have learned to let your glance rest on sincerity, simplicity, truth, you will ever discover, deep down in all things, the silent overpowering victory of that which you love.—Maeterlinck.

Early American Plows.

The first important invention of a plow in this country to be patented was by Jethro Wood in 1819. He was a resident of Scipio, N. Y., and the first patent for a sulky plow in America was granted to H. Brown in 1844, but practical plows of this type were not made until 1854.

SANTA'S TIRED!

When Jane Fixes the Knickknacks

I LIKE to loaf in the kitchen while Jane in her wifely way 's puttin' the finish on knickknacks for the dinner on Christmas day. 'Tis a toilsome early o' mornin's, when the coffee-pot's stummin' low, in the roosters is crowin' for daybreak—'Tis nobody else didn't know—'Tis out through the white curtained window the stars is beginnin' to fade, 'Tis the lights that was hid in darkness is 'comin' out o' the shade. 'Tis a silence settles, so plain it is mighty high seen, 'Tis me an' the past stand together, with scarcely a mint between, 'Tis I feel unusually tender—in a glad, 'Tis I feel sort o' way—While Jane is fixin' the knickknacks for the dinner on Christmas day.

A person don't never, I reckon, disremember the old folks at home. No matter how feeble he grows an' no matter jest where he may roam. An' they show pretty clear at such minits, true an' brave as in days gone by, 'Till I push my chair in the shadders—a-hidin' the mist in my eye. I see the grave face of my father as he reads by the candlestick there. An' I hear some hymn of my mother as she rocks in the hickory chair; Then the firelight falls on the ceilin' with the rose o' the old time glow. As I dream only dreams o' the future 'stid o' dreams o' the long ago. Heigh ho! What a world o' changes from the lad to the man now gray. Watchin' Jane as she fixes knickknacks for the dinner on Christmas day!

Then my thoughts travels on an' onward from mists where the old folks be, An' I wonder if our own children is thinkin' o' Jane an' me; If they heard some organ sendin' the song, "Do They Miss Me at Home?" Through the holy Christmas mornin', through the holy Christmas gloam, If they heard their children shoutin' in pleasure beside their toys, Would they think once more o' the home-stead, where they lived when girls an' boys. The young has the world before 'em, but for us it lies behind—A dim, dear land o' memories, where even I keep in mind Wee, faded clothes in the attic, broken toys long laid away. As I watch Jane fixin' knickknacks for the dinner on Christmas day. —Will T. Hale.

ELECTRIC CHRISTMAS GIFTS.

Still New Enough to Have Novelty Element Dear to Americans.

Electric Christmas gifts still possess that element of novelty dear to the American heart and thus solve the problem of giving Christmas gifts that are "different." Imagine how pleased most men would be to receive an electric shaving cup or electric cigar lighter instead of neckties, socks and handkerchiefs "as usual."

A teakettle for grandmother, a samovar for mother's 5 o'clock teas, a chafing dish for the college girl, a disk stove for the bachelor, a flatiron or sewing machine motor for the practical housewife—all these novel and useful gifts will be appreciated by the recipients.

It should not be forgotten that these electric Christmas gifts are all useful gifts. Each of these devices is designed to do some one thing better than it can be done any other way, whether it is to percolate coffee, toast bread or furnish the power for running a sewing machine. The presence of an electric percolator on any table adds a touch of something different and something better. The electric tea samovar is rapidly becoming quite the thing for the modern tea table.

"Wassail! Drinkaell!"

The wassail bowl, which is still used in some old European families at Christmas, succeeded the skull of the Norseman's foe as a drinking vessel. In these old wassail bowls, some specimens of which are of brown ware and others of massive silver, were placed the ale, the ginger, the sugar, the nutmeg and the roasted crab apples. Where the old custom still prevails the ale is served spiced and sweetened in the wassail bowl, but the apples are omitted.

Still Bring In the Boar's Head.

The ancient Christmas ceremony of bringing in the boar's head is regularly performed on Christmas afternoon in the hall of Queen college, Oxford, England. The head is borne in on a silver dish, shoulder high, at the head of a procession formed by the college choir augmented for the occasion singing "The Boar's Head Song."

CLIMATE AND HEALTH

Strange, isn't it, but few of us really know how to dress!

We—particularly our Florida women, who follow the fashions, regardless of dates—prefer styles to comfort. The powers that dictate the cut and material of our garb, have decreed that the present season shall specialize on fur as trimming, and the good ladies of Florida donned their fall costumes in September, which were decorated with furs from the neck to the shoe tops, because their sisters and cousins and aunts in New York were gowned that same way. The fact that Florida temperatures still hovered among the high 80's didn't make a bit of difference, and the critical males looked at them, admired them and perspired abundantly for them.

And the men were just as ridiculous. They packed away their Palm Beaches and lost their Panamas for the winter, weeks before winter arrived and hated themselves for doing it. Few of us can endure being looked at because our clothes are out of date, no matter how comfortable they may be.

Now, the fact is that Florida has less variation between the extremes and the averages of summer heat and winter coolness than any other state in the United States of America. The changes in Florida temperatures and other weather conditions are less abrupt than in northern sections, particularly in the interior sections removed from the influence of large bodies of water.

These favoring averages foster carelessness in preparing for or adapting our clothing to the changes that do come. The result is a noticeable increase of grippe, influenza, colds and similar troubles from middle October on. And this is especially true among the very young and the older members of the community—the two extremes of age in the population.

Here's some advice from the health department about dressing to meet all weather and temperature conditions in Florida: Wear all the year around light weight undergarments, such as are suitable for summer, and make changes in the weight and texture of the outer clothing to meet weather variations as they come.

There is danger in clothing the body too warmly, just as in wearing too little. Heavy clothing induces perspiration and the sudden draft of cold air upon the heated body or upon any part of it that is usually covered, may drive the blood from the skin surface and produce congestion. The same result may follow prolonged chilling of the body from insufficient protection.

There is danger also in the freak of feminine fashion which bares the neck and chest to the extent that makes a modest man blush, but the women defend the practice on the ground that they are "used to it." There is danger, too, in the evening party gown that is hung from the figure by a dainty strap of filmy material over each shoulder, and leaves conspicuous vacancies of dress, back and front. It is dangerous, but—

Florida attracts hundreds and thousands of winter visitors, who come to escape the cold of the North. The contrast between the weather conditions they leave and those they find makes them careless of the latter and there is danger for them. The bright sun in a cloudless sky and a gentle breeze from the northwest are a deluding combination in Florida. The Northern man or woman is keyed up to resist the rigors of the Northern winter. An overcoat or other heavy wrap is almost always worn out of doors. Too often these are thrown over the arm or left at home in Florida, because it "seems" so warm in the open air.

While we here welcome our winter visitors, we warn them to bring their heavy clothing when they come to see us, and to use the same with good judgment in wearing it as they use at home during their changeable summers. A straw hat, white tennis shoes and linen suits are of use to the tourist during a Florida winter mainly for photographic purposes. With a background of palms they make a charming pose to be pictured and sent back to the dear ones in the frozen, snowy North. Florida's winter climate is the envy of the rest of the nation, but it should be treated with due respect and handled with care.

Using Watch as Compass.

A watch may be used to determine the points of the compass by pointing the hour hand at the sun any time of the day and then placing a small piece of straight wire crosswise between the hour hand and the figure 12, getting exactly half way. The point of the wire which comes between the 12 and the hour hand always points due south.

Choking Him Off.

In his book "Gridiron Nights" Arthur W. Dunn says that the Gridiron club always made use of Chauncey M. Depew for any purpose whatsoever. At a dinner in 1899 General H. V. Boynton, the president of the club, made an introductory speech about Senator Depew, indicating that he was to be called upon. Just as everybody was expecting the senator to arise and while he was getting his preparatory smile ready there stalked into the room a very large sized book labeled "Depew's Jokes." On the other side was a picture of Depew wearing a ciferously. When the uproar subsided Boynton went on with his speech and introduced somebody else.

A little later, however, he made a speech in which he really introduced Depew, and the senator arose. But before he could say a word a phonograph began grinding out some of Depew's old stories, and the senator was obliged to sit down. Later in the evening, however, he had an opportunity to speak, but he began gingerly, expecting some new trap.

Tale of Three Nations.

Some gentlemen were once dining together at a hotel when the conversation turned upon the characteristics of different nationalities. "Now," said one of them, "there are three waiters. I will put to each of them the same question, and I will wager a cigar they will give an entirely different answer."

"Agreed!" "Now, Tom," as the first entered with the soup, "what would you take to sit outside the door of St. Paul's all night?"

"A guinea, sir," answered Tom, with business promptitude.

Enter Sandy with the second course, the same question being asked.

Sandy (cautiously): "An' what wael ye gie?"

Enter Pat with the third course.

"Now, Pat, what would you take to sit outside the dome of St. Paul's all night?"

"Faith, and I'd take a bad cowid!"

The gentleman won the wager.—London Mail.

Progress.

The first day he said, "She is the most beautiful girl I have ever seen."

The second day, "She is one of the most beautiful girls I have ever seen."

Third, "She is certainly a beautiful girl."

Fourth, "She is beautiful."

Fifth, "She is rather beautiful."

Sixth, "At times she is beautiful."

Seventh, "She has beauty."

Eighth, "Beautiful? Well, yes."

Ninth, "I shouldn't say she is beautiful, but there are times when she is good looking."

Tenth, "For the past ten days I have been trying to find out whether she has any brains or not. I have decided that she has not. And I remember very well the first time I met her I thought her beautiful!—Life.

The Original Wedding Cake.

Our wedding cake is the remains of a custom whereby a Roman bride held in her left hand three wheat ears, and many centuries later an English bride wore on her head a chaplet of wheat. The attendant girls threw corn, either in grains or in small bits of biscuit or cake, upon the heads of the newly married couple, and the guests picked up the pieces and ate them. Such was the beginning of the wedding cake, which did not come into general use until the eighteenth century and was then composed of solid blocks laid together and fed all over with sugar so that when the outer crust was broken over the bride's head the cakes inside fell on the floor and they were then distributed among the company.

Travels of a Sapphire.

A sapphire of good quality which was cut into a gem weighing one and three-eighths carats was discovered in the gravel along the shore of Lake Okoboji, Dickinson county, Ia., in 1914. It is described as resembling a piece of blue bottle glass worn round and smooth by attrition and is stated to be the cornflower blue variety and to have a good, velvety luster. This gem was probably transported to the Lake Okoboji region by ice during the glacial period along with a large variety of other minerals and rocks, and its original home can only be surmised.—United States Geological Survey.

A Case of Hating Oneself.

Proprietor of a Concert Party (engaging a soprano)—Now, I want you to understand, Miss Deely, that I like my boys and girls to be one big family—no quarreling, no jealousy.

Don't Let the Christmas Shopping Dollar Go Out of Town

IT'S as plain as a pikestaff that the dollar you take out of town seldom comes back. If you spend your dollar in town it stays here. It circulates in the community. It is a living thing. The dollar goes to the butcher, the baker. It goes to the printer. The local merchant with whom you spend it pays it out in wages. It makes for the individual well being. It makes for the community well being.

Therefore circulate your Christmas dollars in town. Be a community builder. It might be well to emphasize the fact that you cannot do any better out of town than you can right here with our local merchants.

With that fact confronting you, why hesitate about spending your Christmas dollars with the home merchants? The local merchants are progressive and a part of the community in which you live and in which you are vitally interested. They'll give you value received for every dollar you spend.

Besides, they'll circulate that dollar of yours in town. It will stay here. If you take it out of town you are injuring the community. You are injuring your neighbor. You are injuring yourself.

Circulate your dollar here.

Do your Christmas shopping in the home stores.

WAR COLLEGE FRAMES NEW MILITARY POLICY

PLANS CALLING FOR LARGE CON-TINENTAL ARMY MADE PUBLIC
TODAY—MAY INFLUENCE CON-GRESS.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—A regular army of 253,500, a reserve of regulars totalling 379,000 in eight years, and a Continental army of 500,000 civilian volunteers to be raised in three years, constitute the salient features of a military policy for the United States formulated by the War College Division of the army General Staff and made public by Secretary Garrison today.

This army would cost Uncle Sam about $500,000,000 the first year, or an amount equal to that which Secretaries Garrison and Daniels each recommends for the reorganization and expansion of the army and navy during the next five years.

Secretary Garrison's plan for the reorganization of the army, formulated independently of the general staff recommendations, already has been made public. Mr. Garrison called upon the War College to formulate a military policy last March. The report was submitted to him in September and is now now made public with President Wilson's approval.
Although hardly calculated to receive popular approval, the War Department expects that it will have an important influence upon Congress in shaping a new military policy.

The report lays special emphasis upon the fact that modern means of communication have destroyed the isolation which so long constituted the United States' most secure defense.

"The safeguard of isolation no longer exists," say the war experts of the general staff. "The oceans, once barriers, are now easy avenues of approach by reason of the number,
speed and carrying capacity of ocean-going vessels. The increasing radii of action of the submarine, the aero-plane, and wireless telegraphy all supplement ocean transport in placing both our Atlantic and Pacific coasts within the sphere of hostile activities of overseas nations."

To emphasize the importance of improved communication, the report clamy asserts that with conditions as they were abroad up to August, 1914. Germany with vessels of 7,600,000 tons capacity at her command "might reasonably be expected to transport and land on our coasts" an expedition of 387,000 men within 16 days and 440,000 more within 30 days. In other words, 827,000 men in two expeditions within a month. Other interesting figures, based upon control of the sea
by the various powers are given.
Japan according to these figures could land 96,000 troops in 22 days, and 143,000 more, or a total of 239,000
in 41 days.

CITRUS FRUIT TREES ARE LIABLE TO CERTAIN PESTS

Citrus trees are not free from the attacks of pests and diseases, yet they are less subject to troubles of this kind than other fruit trees. The most widely distributed disease is that known as "die-back." It will attack all varieties and in all localities. It is easily recognized. The young twigs turn brown and then die back several inches. In its advanced stage it forms dark brown blotches on the fruit, followed by cracking and splitting. The cause is poorly aerated or sour soil, or unsuitable fertilizer.
Study your soil, or fertilizer, and correct it as soon as possible. Other citrus-tree diseases are attacks of fungi, affecting roots, stems, branches and leaves. Most of these fungous diseases are cured by spraying, and a cure is quickly effected if done at the right time. The director of the government experiment station at Gainesville, Fla., will furnish bulletins containing all the needful information on citrus diseases and the approved methods of eradication.

The frequency of spraying a grove
is largely a matter of local conditions, the diseases or pests prevailing in the vicinity, and the frequency of rains.

Sees Glorious Future.

All this world is heavy with the promise of greater things, and the day will come, one day in the unending succession of days, when beings, beings who are now latent in our thoughts, shall stand on this earth as one stands on a footstool, and shall laugh and reach out their hands amid the stars.—H. G. Wells.

Not Uncommon Error

"A man is liable to get in wrong," said Uncle Eben "when he mistakes
toatin' for peasin'."

Proof.

The lecturer raised his voice. "It is my belief, and I venture to assert it," he declared, "that there isn't a man in this audience who has ever done anything to prevent the destruction of our vast forests." A rather timid, henpecked looking man quietly arose in the rear of the hall and said:
"I—er—I've shot woodpeckers."—Ex-

With some curiosity I drew the cork, and found a note in the bottle which read as follows: "Whoever finds this bottle will find all the beer gone."

True Friendship Endures.

Friends may part, not merely in body, but in spirit, for awhile. In the bustle of business and the incidents of life they may lose sight of each other for years; they may begin to differ in their success in life, in their opinions, in their habits, and there may be for a time coldness and estrangement between them; but not forever, if each remains true to the true.

Too Little Kindness in World.

I wonder why it is we are not all kinder than we are? How much the world needs it! How easily it is done! How infallibly it is remembered! How superabundantly it pays itself back! For there is no debtor in the world so honorable, so superbly honorable, as love. "Love never faileth."—Professor Drummond.

Drag of Mediocrity.

The world, of course, is in a secret conspiracy against youth and growth, declares a writer in the American Magazine. Any man who dares to be young, or to grow, or to be original, must expect to have the world set upon him and pound him unmercifully—and if that doesn't finish him off, then the world clings desperately to his coat tails, resolved that if it can not stop him entirely it will at least go along with him and make traveling as difficult as possible. This latter process is what a friend of mine illuminatively calls the drag of mediocrity. But this punching and pounding is mostly good for youth and originality—good if it doesn't kill—for it proves the strength of youth, tests faith and enthusiasm, and measures surely power of originality. And as for the provoking drag upon their coat tails, youth and originality should reflect that this is the only way by which mediocrity ever gets ahead!

The Justice of the Peace.

The justice of the peace has always been the target of criticism and mirth. This very hour, perhaps, a fellow lawyer is standing in the back of a rural store regarding his honor with thoughts that his tongue dares not utter. Lord Cowper scored the English justice, and pronounced him a man "sometimes illiterate and frequently bigoted and prejudiced." We have heard of the justice who, when asked to charge the jury, replied: "Gentlemen, this has been a long and tedious trial for me; I'll have to charge you 50 cents apiece." A certain dissatisfied advocate, so we are told, "moved to strike out part of the evidence." The motion being put to the spectators, was carried.—Case and Comment.

Neat Way to Put It.

Alice was calling on grandmother, and announced her intention of going home to make ready for Bessie's party. "May I go to the party with you?" asked grandmother. Alice shook her head sadly. "Why not? Am I too old?" "Not too old," said Alice, "but your face will not match the children's."

The Trouble With Art.

Men are without great dreams in these days, and art is elaborate and fussy and self-conscious. The technical part of the work is predominant. One sees the artist holding up a mirror to himself as he works. Pygmalion congratulates the statue upon the fact that he carved it, instead of being lost in the love of creating. It is as though a lover should sing of himself instead of singing of his lady. The subtle poison of self-advertisement has crept in and peers like a satyr from the picture and from the statue.

CANCER DEATHS INCREASE STEADILY

STATISTICS SHOW THERE WERE 23,295 IN THE UNITED STATES IN 1904 AND 49,928 IN THE YEAR 1913.

Washington, Dec. 10.—The number of deaths from cancer registered in the United States increased from 23,295 in 1904 to 49,928 in 1913. This corresponds to a rate of more than 70 per 100,000 of population in 1904 and nearly 79 per 100,000 in 1913.

The death rate per 100,000 population from cancer increased steadily during the decade, the increase amounting to 12.5 per cent, comparing the first with the last year of the decade.

It is proved again that females are more subject to cancer than males. The greatest number of deaths from this cause occurs between the ages of 60 and 70.

The stomach and liver are attacked by cancer oftenest. Thirty-one per cent of every 100,000 of the population died from cancer so located in 1913; cancer of the breast was fatal to 7 out of every 100,000 of the females; 10. Cancer of the mouth increased 40 per cent during the decade; of the breast, 20 per cent; of the stomach and liver, 19 per cent. Says the bulletin:

"The conclusions Dr. Beitler draws are that cancer mortality is increasing; that the increase is real; that the question of refined diagnostic methods and the inclusion of border-line cases cannot be a large factor in determining the rates; that it is hardly probable that a physician of a decade ago was so inefficient as not to be able to recognize advanced cancer; that the changes in the composition of the population, that is in the sex and age distribution, were so slight that the effect on the increase in the specific rates was negligible."

Life's Bargain.

For we take out of life just what we put into it. If we give to life only complaining, life gives back only a many-echoed wail of our own whining. If we give to life joy, life throws back to us all those gracious, joy-laden gifts that the ancients picture spring tossing out of her lap to youth. Happy dreams send us out into the day glad. Nightmare thoughts project their dull shadows across the day.—Agnes Laut in the Century Magazine

$4,000,000 ASKED TO FIGHT CANCER

REPRESENTATIVE SPARKMAN INTRODUCES BILL FOR GOVERNMENT AID TO EXTERMINATE CITRUS CANCER.

Washington, Dec. 10.—Representative Stephen M. Sparkman, of the First Florida district, has introduced a bill in the house of representatives providing for the appropriation of $4,000,000 with which to carry on the fight against citrus cancer in the United States.

Representative Sparkman placed the sum high, so that it will permit being cut down, as attempts would be made if the sum really needed were named in the measure.

A number of Floridians interested deeply in the fight against citrus cancer, including D. Collins Gillette, president of the Tampa board of trade, are in Washington interesting the national law-makers in the campaign against the dread citrus pest.

Not Original.

Not casting reflections on the girl who has invented a gown that can be worn by any woman anywhere, we merely wish to remark that, considering the taste of her time, Eve made the same invention some few years ago.

WELL KNOWN TOURIST SENT TO ROCK PILE; NOT PAYING ALIMONY

DUKE MUNYON, REGULAR WINTER VISITOR TO PALM BEACH, OWES WIFE $1,500; IN JAIL UNTIL HE PAYS UP.

Duke Munyon, son of the patent medicine manufacturer, well-known at Florida winter resorts, especially Palm Beach where he and his father have spent many winters, is pounding rock in the house of correction at Philadelphia because he has failed to comply with a court order to pay his wife $30 per week. He is back $1,500 in payments. Of the Munyon troubles the Philadelphia North American of last Saturday says:

"To the stone pile at the house of correction yesterday went Duke Munyon, son of 'Professor' James M. Munyon, patent medicine manufacturer. He had quit paying on a court order for support of his wife, and Judge Brown sentenced him to crack stone until he has made substantial payment on arrears totaling more than $1,500. 'The $30-a-week order had been made on Munyon in September, 1914. He agreed to the order and paid his wife, Mrs. Alice L. Gillan Munyon, $300. Then he disappeared. 'A warrant was issued for his arrest, and sheriff's officers kept watch for Munyon, who spent most of his time in New York. Returning to this city November 23, he was arrested and held in $2,000 bail. His father saved him from going to a cell by furnishing the bond.

"Munyon told Judge Brown that when he agreed to the order of $30 a week he expected to make more than that amount from a property in which he had an interest at 1513 Arch street. Instead of making money, he said, he did not make expenses. His only earning, he told the court, is $15 a week, which his father pays him.

Talk With
Santa Claus
Over
the Telephone

He will be at the Daily News office Monday evening between the hours of seven and eight and he will talk to his many friends over the telephone.

When Santa Claus first suggested this plan to the Daily-News we felt that he had undertaken a pretty big contract, but, as he said, "There are hundreds of little children right here in Daytona who never had a chance to see me and if they hear my voice over the telephone I feel sure they'll be the 'happiest lot of youngsters in the land.'

All you have to do is ask central for 18 Red and in a moment you will be talking to the dearest old man in the world.

He will have his big book right at his elbow and you tell him just what you want him to bring you for Christmas.

Old Santa is a very busy person these days and it means a great deal to him to give up this hour next week and he'll be disappointed if you do not take advantage of this kind offer and call him up.

Don't forget—he'll be at the Daily-News office Monday evening from seven to eight o'clock.
